This material may be used by any interested party. Modify it, copy it, share it. But you may not sell it or post it on your website without permission of UMCM and the author. It is our hope that, the more resources are shared, the more all of our county's educational opportunities can be strengthened--for all of us.

This project was partially funded through a Florida Department of Education,
Division of Community Colleges and Workforce Education, grant.

Contents

NOTE: In all lessons, page 1 is the theme picture, page 2 is a picture dictionary of key vocabulary words, and page 3 is usually where to find pronunciation and clap-the-stress sections. All lessons also have some conversations, but their positions will shift, according to the subject. The subheads included below will give you an idea of main topics of reading and writing activity sections.

ALSO NOTE THAT each unit has its own page numbers. This is because some groups will want to print units as individual pieces.

Acknowledgements

Many persons and groups helped us develop and field-test the Living in Pinellas County units. We owe special thanks, in that regard to:

Christy Richards, Administrator, Clearwater Adult Education Center
The Adult Education students and tutors who field-tested and provided feedback
The UMCM volunteer tutors and students who field-tested and provided feedback

Carolyn Paul did the research and much of the writing for Units 1 and 3. Judy Kenney did most of the research for Units 4 through 9. (Carolyn and Judy are long-time UMCM tutors. Carolyn is also a ProLiteracy America ESOL Trainer. Judy has had years of classroom experience.)

The UMCM staff, and particularly Donna C. Ratzlaff, Executive Director, provided much-needed encouragement throughout the project. UMCM volunteer tutors Annie Hall, Jean Beaton, and Chi-Ling Ning all provided extra help with research, and field-testing.

And without the mentoring provided by Sandra Thursby, esteemed colleague, we could not have dared to undertake this project.

READ Pinellas provided some funds towards early units, and continues to be a valuable partner in literacy.

Our heartfelt thanks to the many individuals and groups who have read materials, made corrections, and provided all kinds of information, photos, and other graphics. They included:

Tish Elston, Deputy Mayor, and her assistant Bonnie Douglas, the City of St. Petersburg
Terri Legatti, Art/Graphics Manager, Department of Public Affairs, Pinellas County
Elizabeth Warren, Director, Department of Park Service, Pinellas County
Cyndi Schmitt, Marketing, Pinellas County Transit Authority (PSTA)
Kathleen McFadden, Staff Writer, Mountain Times Newspaper, Boone, North Carolina
Jolan Falk, Director of Production, Creative Force, Inc.
Angela Pietras, Librarian, North Branch of the St. Petersburg Library System
Mary Bennett, Programs Supervisor, Childcare Resource and Referral Program
Kay Masters, Information Specialist, Pinellas County School System
Sergeant Darrell C. Herrick, North District Station, Patrol Division, Pinellas County Sheriff's Office
Sergeant Sheila M. Waters, Community Policing, Clearwater Police Department
Melissa Nichols, Public Education Specialist, St. Petersburg Fire and Rescue
Neil V. Palenzuela, Special Agent, FBI, Clearwater Office

About the Curriculum Designer

Martha A. Lane has been involved in community-based ESOL (English for Speakers of Other Languages) and literacy projects since 1966. She holds several trainer certifications from ProLiteracy America, including ESOL Supervising Trainer. She is a member of the Core Knowledge Group for the National Institute for Literacy's ESL collection [<http://literacynet.org/esl>] and consultant/designer for a variety of computer-assisted and Internet-based ESOL projects.

Marti co-authored the Laubach Way to English Series and has written more than a dozen curricula since its publication. Most of her current work is based on Howard Gardner's Theory of Multiple Intelligences. This series for Pinellas County was inspired by PEACE (Process for English and Civics Education), for which she served as curriculum designer and writer (see <http://www.caliteracy.org/education/esl-civics/index.htm>). She currently is Director of Literacy Services for United Methodist Cooperative Ministries, Clearwater, Florida.
